Law360's 2021 Appellate Editorial Advisory Board

Law360 (March 19, 2021, 7:54 PM EDT) -- Law360 is pleased to announce the formation of its 2021 Appellate Editorial Advisory Board.

The editorial advisory board provides feedback on Law360's coverage and expert insight on how best to shape future coverage.

The members of Law360's 2021 Appellate Editorial Advisory Board are:

Adam B. Banks, Weil Gotshal & Manges LLP

Adam Banks is a partner in Weil's appellate practice. Banks has a multidisciplinary practice that of late has encompassed significant patent, corporate, employment and investor litigation. He is a former clerk to Judge Marsha S. Berzon of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit.

A. Marisa Chun, Crowell & Moring LLP

A. Marisa Chun is an experienced appellate advocate and first-chair trial lawyer. A former broadcaster, prosecutor and DOJ official, Chun represents clients before the U.S. and California supreme courts, and federal and state courts of appeal, on behalf of clients ranging from global technology companies to the United States.

Tristan Duncan, Shook Hardy & Bacon LLP

Shook partner Tristan Duncan co-leads the firm's class action and appellate litigation practice. She focuses her practice on constitutional, class action and energy law. Led by Duncan and her co-chairs, the team handled more than 680 class action cases in the last decade and has been instrumental in favorably developing the law.

Yvonne Y. Ho, Bracewell LLP

Yvonne Ho's practice focuses on appeals and original proceedings in Texas and federal appellate courts. She previously served as a clerk to the Judge Ewing Werlein Jr. of the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Texas and Fifth Circuit Judge Thomas M. Reavley.

Eric Magnuson, Robins Kaplan LLP

Eric Magnuson is the chair of Robins Kaplan's appellate group and former chief justice of the Minnesota Supreme Court. Magnuson is a fellow and past president of the American Academy of Appellate Lawyers, and writes and presents frequently on appellate advocacy and procedure.

Brian Matsui, Morrison & Foerster LLP

Brian Matsui is a partner in Morrison & Foerster's appellate and supreme court practice. He briefs and argues cases in the federal courts of appeals nationwide, with particular experience in patent appeals in the Federal Circuit. Matsui is a former clerk to Supreme Court Justice Anthony M. Kennedy.

Bruce P. Merenstein, Schnader Harrison Segal & Lewis LLP

Bruce Merenstein is a partner and chair of Schnader's appellate practice group. He has an extensive federal and state appellate practice, has served as special master in many federal court matters, is a fellow of the American Academy of Appellate Lawyers, and is a member of the American Law Institute.

Jaime Ann Santos, Goodwin Procter LLP

Jaime Santos is an appellate partner at Goodwin Procter in Washington, D.C. She handles appeals and complex civil litigation, with a particular focus on Employee Retirement Income Security Act, intellectual property and product cases. She has also been integral to the judiciary's efforts to address harassment and workplace conduct in federal courts.

Stephanie Schuster, Morgan Lewis & Bockius LLP

Stephanie Schuster helps clients navigate complex and cutting-edge issues from the earliest stages of litigation through appeal. She has argued in federal and state appellate courts across the country and has litigated appeals in the areas of retail, technology, telecommunications, bankruptcy, tax, commercial, insurance, civil rights, arbitration and constitutional law.

Michael Scodro, Mayer Brown LLP

Michael Scodro is a Chicago-based partner in Mayer Brown's supreme court and appellate practice. A former Illinois solicitor general and law clerk to Supreme Court Justice Sandra Day O'Connor, he has argued dozens of cases in federal and state supreme and appellate courts, including three in the U.S. Supreme Court.

Benjamin G. Shatz, Manatt Phelps & Phillips LLP

Benjamin G. Shatz, a California State Bar-certified appellate specialist, co-chairs the appellate practice at Manatt Phelps & Phillips in Los Angeles, and practices state and federal civil appeals. He is editor-in-chief of California Litigation; authors Exceptionally Appealing in the LA Daily Journal; and blogs at Southern California Appellate News.

Aaron Streett, Baker Botts LLP

Baker Botts partner Aaron Streett chairs the firm's Supreme Court and constitutional law practice. He has presented oral argument in numerous high-stakes appeals, covering the U.S. Supreme Court, the Texas Supreme Court and various courts across the country.

Daniel M. Sullivan, Holwell Shuster & Goldberg LLP

A partner at Holwell Shuster & Goldberg, Daniel Sullivan clerked for Supreme Court Justice Antonin Scalia and, before that, Ninth Circuit Judge Diarmuid F. O'Scannlain. As a leader of the firm's growing appellate practice, Sullivan has represented clients in a broad range of matters before state and federal appellate courts.
